Tuition Assistance Application

We understand that there are sometimes many sacrifices that have to be made when weighing the monetary costs of sending your child to a private school. While we strive to keep tuition and fees as low as possible while still covering our operating costs, we know that tuition can at times be stressful on a family's budget. Considering this, our desire is to never turn away a family who truly desires a Christian education for their children because of an inability to pay. We want a Christian education to be accessible for everyone!

High Desert Christian Academy does award financial aid to those whose situation shows that they need it in order to attend the school. If you have questions, we will be happy to guide you through the application process. In general, to be considered for a tuition assistance:
